OFFICIAL PROGRAMME

Ver. 21 November 2026

THEME

EVALUATION IN THE ERA OF POLYCRISIS: THE ROLE OF EVALUATION IN SUPPORTING AFRICA'S SOVEREIGNTY AND RESILIENCE IN THE FACE OF GLOBAL DISRUPTIONS

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Word from the AfrEA President

Dear Colleagues, Partners and Friends of AfrEA,

It is with great pleasure and sincere appreciation that I welcome you to the 12th AfrEA International Conference, taking place from 23 to 27 November 2026 in Marrakech, Morocco. We are honoured to host this gathering together with the Moroccan Evaluation Association (AME) and with the support of the Kingdom of Morocco.

This conference is a testament to the commitment of African evaluators, institutions and partners who continue to advance evaluation rooted in African contexts. Through the Made in Africa Evaluation approach, AfrEA has worked to promote knowledge exchange, strengthen evaluation capacity and connect evaluators across the continent. In Marrakech, we build on that work together.

A Timely Theme

Our theme is "Evaluation in the Era of the Polycrisis: The Role of Evaluation in Support of African Sovereignty and Resilience in the Face of Global Disruptions". Africa is navigating overlapping crises that test development progress and challenge established ways of working. This conference asks how evaluation can help the continent understand these pressures, learn from experience and respond with resilience and confidence.

The programme is built around four strands:

- Rethinking development paradigms in the era of the polycrisis, and strengthening the contribution of evaluation to resilience in Africa;
- Decolonising evaluation practice by drawing on indigenous knowledge and community participation;

"Together, we will continue to strengthen evaluation that serves African priorities.

Dr Miché Ouédraogo
President, African Evaluation Association (AfrEA)

African Evaluation Association
Association Africaine d'Evaluation

- Exploring how information technology and artificial intelligence can make evaluation more adaptive, innovative and useful;
- Leaving no one behind, with evaluation that responds to youth inclusion, gender and climate change adaptation.

A Rich and Inspiring Programme

Over five days, participants will take part in paper presentations, panels, roundtables, poster displays, exhibitions and professional development workshops. Keynote addresses and plenary sessions will bring together leading African and international voices.

Young and Emerging Evaluators

AfrEA is committed to nurturing the next generation of evaluators. The conference creates space for young and emerging evaluators to take part and to lead, so that fresh perspectives shape the conversation.

Connecting and Collaborating

Evaluators, researchers, policymakers, development partners and national evaluation associations will come together to exchange knowledge, build professional networks and stimulate innovation and collaboration in evaluation across Africa.

With Thanks

I extend my sincere thanks to the Moroccan Evaluation Association, the authorities of the Kingdom of Morocco, our partners and sponsors, and everyone who has worked to make this conference possible.

Join Us in Shaping the Future

I invite you to take part fully in these five days, to share your work, to listen and to debate, and to help shape the next chapter of evaluation in Africa. Together, we will continue to strengthen evaluation that serves African priorities.

Welcome to Marrakech, and to #AfrEA2026. Let us connect, reflect and innovate for the future of evaluation in Africa.

President, African Evaluation Association (AfrEA)

AME PRESIDENT'S WELCOME MESSAGE

Word from the President of the Moroccan Evaluation Association

Dear Delegates, Partners and Friends,

It is a great honour and pleasure for the Moroccan Evaluation Association (AME) to welcome you to Marrakech for the 12th AfrEA International Conference. We are proud to host this gathering in partnership with the African Evaluation Association (AfrEA), and to bring the African evaluation community together in Morocco.

The theme of this conference, evaluation in the era of the polycrisis and its role in supporting African sovereignty and resilience, speaks to every one of us. For AME, hosting the conference is an opportunity to share our experience, to learn from colleagues across the continent and to strengthen the practice of evaluation in Morocco.

I extend my sincere thanks to AfrEA for its trust and partnership, to the authorities of the Kingdom of Morocco, to our partners and sponsors, and to everyone who has worked to prepare this conference.

I invite you to take full part in the discussions, to build new connections, and to discover the warmth of Moroccan hospitality during your stay.

Welcome to Marrakech, and welcome to Morocco.

Jamal Ramdane
President
Moroccan Evaluation Association (AME)

"Welcome to Marrakech, and welcome to Morocco."

Jamal Ramdane
President
Moroccan Evaluation Association (AME)

Welcome to Marrakech

From 23 to 27 November 2026, the African Evaluation Association (AfrEA) and the Moroccan Evaluation Association (AME) welcome the African and global evaluation community to Marrakech for the 12th AfrEA International Conference.

Two days of pre-conference workshops (23–24 November) are followed by three days of plenaries, high-level panels, parallel oral sessions, roundtables and poster presentations (25–27 November), organised around four thematic strands.

This programme lists every session with its time, room and code. Use the coloured tabs on the edge of the page to move from one section to the next.

The four strands

STRAND 1

Rethinking Development Paradigms in the Era of the Polycrisis: What transformative role can evaluation play in strengthening resilience in Africa?

The world is facing several crises at once, including economic, climate, health, and conflict. This strand asks how evaluation can help Africa become more resilient and rethink the way development is done.

STRAND 2

Decolonising Evaluation Practices: Toward African approaches rooted in Indigenous knowledge and community participation in a changing global context.

For a long time, evaluation has relied on approaches designed elsewhere. This strand explores African ways of evaluating, drawing on Indigenous knowledge and the participation of local communities.

STRAND 3

Information Technology and Artificial Intelligence: What levers can drive adaptive and innovative evaluation in the face of the dynamics of the polycrisis?

Digital tools and artificial intelligence are changing how we work. This strand looks at how technology and AI can make evaluation more adaptive, innovative, and responsive in times of crisis.

STRAND 4

"Leaving No One Behind" in the Era of the Polycrisis: Promoting evaluation that is sensitive to the challenges of youth inclusion, gender, and climate change adaptation in Africa.

Crises hit the most vulnerable hardest. This strand focuses on evaluation that pays attention to young people, gender equality, and adapting to climate change, so that no one is left out.
